

Colloquium

“Data for Research: Sources, Tools and Services from the Library”

Who:	Ms. Kristi Thompson Data Librarian, Leddy Library University of Windsor
When:	Thursday November 30, 2017 3:00 P.M.
Where:	Biology Bldg., Room 113

Abstract:

The Leddy Library's Academic Data Centre provides access to and support for research data at the University of Windsor. Through subscriptions, licensing agreements, and an on-site restricted data centre we make thousands of data collections available. A few highlights include the ICPSR archive of important international and U.S. surveys, health record extracts from the Canadian Institute for Health Information, Statistics Canada public-use and master files, and business data from WRDS. Join Data Librarian Kristi Thompson for an introduction to these resources and some tips on searching and extracting from our specialized databases.